I. W. W. Must Put Up Bail Of $935,000

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—Bail in the aggregate sum of $935,000 was demanded of 187 Industrial Workers of the World who were given hearings Friday for participation in the forbidden meeting raided in Old Forge Thursday and which resulted in 287 arrests.

Each defendant was also fined $10 for disorderly conduct. None gave bonds or paid the fine and all went back to the county jail. The charges preferred against them were unlawful assembly, forcible entry, conspiracy meeting to riot and disorderly conduct. The other prisoners, including the twenty alleged Industrial Workers of the World leaders will be given hearings Saturday.

The defendant's lawyers contended themselves with a protest against the size of the bail. The defense will make no further move, counsel said, until the habeas corpus hearing Saturday.

Fourteen of the fifty defendants in one magistrate's office raised their hands when the attorney repeating the prosecution asked "How many of you are citizens?"

Hundreds of friends of the prisoners, many of them women, came from Old Forge to the city Friday. One woman, whose husband was arrested, walked the eight miles in the rain carrying an infant.

Old Forge was quiet Friday and Friday night. A meeting was called for 10 o'clock Friday morning in a field in an adjoining town but only a few responded.

One hundred new 305 millimetre guns are being employed, the aim of which is deadly, due to an invention for long distance range finding by which observation is possible notwithstanding rain.

The new offensive, which has been going on for four days from Gorizia to the Adriatic is still in its first stages, with the Austrians retrenching and blocking the way to Trieste along the line of Hermada-Selo-Novelo.

THEATERS

AT THE COLONIAL.

"The Sting of Victory," a tale of the Blue and the Gray with Henry B. Walthall representing both colors, is the feature picture to be shown at the Colonial today. Mr. Walthall plays two separate and distinct roles in a superb manner and to see him in a Confederate uniform will bring up memories of "The Birth of a Nation," the big production of which he was the main hero. The strong feeling between a United States army officer and an impetuous young Confederate forms the basis of the drama. Throughout the picture there are plenty of battle scenes and war views, many touches of romance and several incidents showing the unscrupulousness of the "poor white trash," and the faithfulness of the colored slave. At the conclusion there is a milder mystery which adds considerable interest. Antoinette Walker and Anne Leigh are prominent in the cast. Alice Brady, a very prominent photoplay artist now playing for the camera will be featured at the Colonial on Sunday in a big Brady-made feature entitled, "La Vie De Boheme." It is a French story taken from the opera of the same name and has been elaborately staged and is superbly acted.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Little Joyce Fair, the 12 year old leading player in "A Little Volunteer," will delight the children in this picture at the Auditorium today. They are very fond of her. In fact, she is the most popular child player on the screen. "Mutt and Jeff," will also entertain today as well as Tom Mix, in a western comedy called, "A Western Masquerade." Other pictures on the bill are a single reel Metro comedy and the Selig-Tribune weekly of current events showing an unusual number of interesting scenes. Sunday's bill is exceptionally good and will include "The Gold Ship," a reel Selig drama; "He Wrote Poetry," a Kalem comedy featuring Ivy Close; "My Country 'Tis of Thee," a war drama full of "punch" and "Life Savers," a single reel of Vim comedy. Monday that popular player, Helen Holmes, will be seen in a sensational five part drama called, "The Diamond Runners," a picture filled with thrilling adventures in which Miss Holmes takes the part of a beautiful woman allied with a daring band of illicit diamond buyers in their exciting and hazardous trade. The production was staged in Hawaii and some magnificent scenery will be shown. "Peaches and Ponies," another comedy with Ivy Close, and "Rushing Business," a Vim comedy, will also be shown.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The excellent vaudeville bill now being presented at the Orpheum will be given final performances today. Geo. Lovett and company are seen in their high class exhibition of mind reading, "Concentration"; Dunbar's Salon singers present popular as well as classical songs in a pleasing manner; Neil McKinley, an exceptionally entertaining eccentric, offers a bright line of comedy and finishes with a mock wedding that is a scream. Barber and Jackson offer new songs and parodies and the bill is opened in a lively manner by McCrae and Clegg in a bicycle specialty.

Beginning tomorrow "Fraternity Boys and Girls," a musical comedy in miniature will be presented for the first half of the week. Sylvia DeFrankie, formerly of South Bend heads a large and attractive chorus. There is plenty of music, elaborate costumes and scenic backgrounds and a general air of college life that will make the production most entertaining.

AT THE LASALLE.

The thrilling Buena Vista story, "The Grip of Evil" will be continued as usual as the principal attraction at the Lasalle today, presenting Jackie Saunders and Roland Bottoley, the two clever players in the leading roles. The story is one that has created a great amount of comment all over the country among the leading citizens and it is one of nation-wide scope. Grace Darling and Harry Fox will appear in another release of the "Beatrice Fairfax," serial and other short subjects will complete the program.

AT THE OLIVER.

By this evening, everything will be in readiness for the opening of the Otis Oliver Stock Co's engagement at the Oliver theater tomorrow afternoon. The scenic artists have about completed their work on the scenery, the necessary properties have been completed and the company is well rehearsed and "up" in their parts of "Under Cover," the opening bill. Of course one is always apt to draw comparisons, but the company Mr. Oliver has brought with him this time bids fair to become more popular than last season's organization. "Under Cover," will be played up to and including Wednesday and on Thursday the play will change to a comedy called "In Walked Jimmy." The advance sale of seats has been very good and the indications are for excellent business tomorrow.

"RAMONA."

The last two performances of the wonderful motion picture "Ramona," will be given at the Oliver theater this afternoon at 2:30 and this evening at 8:15. Without doubt, the picture is the most beautiful in many ways, that has ever been shown here. The photography is particularly good, the magnificent, the acting excellent, the music exceptionally fine and the story appealing as every one knows who has read Helen Hunt Jackson's book. In fact, everything about the production is clean, refined and not only well worth while, but something that should not be missed.

Wyman's Weekly "Ad"-itorial

Easy to Say

It is easy to use such adjectives as Greatest, Biggest, Most Wonderful. They are simple words, yet often—very often—misused.

When we talk of this great country of ours—there are many proper uses for such words, and we can properly use strong adjectives, such as these.

There are even occasions when their use is permissible and proper in advertising—but more frequently they become idle words by constant repeating—by constant iteration.

This store is adverse to making comparisons in its advertisements. We would let the character of the goods we sell, and the manner of our salespeople, speak for us—rather than boastful advertisements.
